

Artillery

Artillery in the battles of WW1 at the Canadian War Museum

Artillery

Artillery fire inflicted approximately 60 per cent of all wounds during the First World War.

L'artillerie

Les tirs d'artillerie furent responsables d'environ 60 pour cent des blessures pendant la Première Guerre mondiale.

S S an cl

De La
don pro
la b

The Great Killer

La grande meurtre

Barrage

1st lift/
1<sup>er</sup> niveau de levée

2nd lift/
2<sup>e</sup> niveau de levée

3rd lift/
3<sup>e</sup> niveau de levée

Key Légende

Attacking infantry/
Infanterie passant à l'offensive

A large, green and grey cannon is displayed in a museum. The cannon has a long barrel and a large, spoked wheel. In the background, there is a painting of a battle scene. To the left of the cannon, there is a small, yellow object on a stand. The word "Conclusion" is overlaid on the image in white text.

Conclusion